Before announcement the speaker claimed the right to cast his vote and voted in the affirmative

The announcement was greeted with applause on the Democratic side of the house

Butler of Massachusetts voted in the affirmative with the Democrats The following Democrats voted in the negative with the Republicans Cutler Hartridge Herbert Henry Potter Ross Stenger Walsh and Williams of Delaware Chandler (Dem) who would have voted in the negative was absent and paired Jones of Alabama who yesterday voted in favor of seating Field said he did so because he thought that according to Massachusetts law Field was entitled to the seat but the house having decided against that view of the law on this resolution seating Dean he would vote aye [Applause on the Democratic side]

THE HALIFAX FISHERIES AWARD

A BIG SWINDLE ON THE UNITED STATES AND HOW IT CAME ABOUT—SOMETHING ABOUT DELFOSSE THE MAN WHO COST US $5 500 000

The following from the Chicago Tribune will give the reader an inside view of the fisheries award of which so much has been said recently

Ex Secretary Fish in an interview with a reporter, told how a Belgian came to be appointed umpire of the fisheries commission at Halifax. The unfairness of selecting a native of Belgium for this position was admitted by the representatives of the British government The Marquis of Ripon the British commissioner said in conversation with a member of the American government "We don't want to suggest Mr Delfosse, for we suppose you will raise against him the objection that he represents a government supposed to be under British influence." In spite of warning the British government afterwards did press the appointment of Delfosse and Mr Fish in a fit of foolish magnanimity consented to it The price of his blunder was the $5,500 000 award He now expresses amazement at the result but it is difficult to understand how he could have looked for any other He might as well have named Lord Dufferin or any other British subject as the umpire Indeed the appointment of a Belgian was worse than that of an Englishman would have been A plain advantage in numbers might have compelled a just verdict from a sense of decency and fairness, whereas a pretense of impartiality was an excellent cover for extortion Except in name the Belgian umpire was an Englishman Belgium exists as an independent nation under the guarantee of Great Britain Gratitude sympathy, and self interest bind the two countries together

A few considerations will suffice to show that the award was grossly unjust It is supposed to represent only the value of the mackerel caught by United States fishermen in Canadian waters during twelve years Evidence produced before the commission and admitted by both sides established the fact that cod and halibut are caught without the three mile limit and are not subject to the terms of the treaty The whole mackerel catch brought into our ports by United States vessels and sold in our markets has not averaged more than $75 000 per annum for the last six years But the commission estimated the value of this catch for twelve years at $5 500 000 The United States are consequently called upon to pay $457 000 per annum for the privilege of $75 000 worth of fish There is another point Our government has by the terms of the treaty of Washington given to Canada the privilege of sending fish and fish oils into the United States duty free the concession being distinctly made as compensation for the benefits enjoyed by American fishermen in Canadian waters The loss to our revenue in consequence of this remission of duties was $181 778 in 1873, $179 386 in 1874 $155 076 in 1875 and $153 076 in 1876 The net loss to the United States over and above the total value of the mackerel caught, —not the profits of the catch, it will be observed —was about $109 000 per annum and the value of the catch was constantly decreasing while the loss of revenue showed no considerable abatement after 1875

The award being thus unfair and obtained only through the favoritism of the Belgian umpire, it becomes a serious question whether the United States government can honorably avoid the payment of it The treaty does not provide for a verdict by a majority and it is held that the dissent of the American member of the commission invalidates its decision The article of the treaty of Washington providing for the Geneva award expressly stipulated that a majority of the commission should rule The failure to make a similar provision with reference to the Halifax award indicates that it was not intended to give the same power to a majority in this instance. Some opponents of this view have argued If it was not intended that a majority should rule why refer the matter to a board of arbitration composed of an odd number It may be asked with as great force why have an American member of the commission at all if his vote was not to be counted Why not refer the dispute to an umpire alone? There are several precedents for the rule requiring a unanimous award and the remarkable absence of the stipulation in the article of the treaty providing for this commission while three other articles of the same treaty contained it is sufficient evidence that a majority verdict was not contemplated This is especially likely to be true since the whole object of the treaty was to promote good feeling between the two countries The resolution offered by Mr Blaine calling for the correspondence relating to the award, was adopted by the senate yesterday This action indicates a disposition to overhaul the facts and ascertain by what means the verdict was obtained If the government goes back of the verdict it may be disposed to set it aside altogether Mr Blaine expressed his own [illegible] that [illegible] such result should be reached claiming that the award was excessive and obtained by unfair means and that it ought not to be paid We agree with him in this position for the reasons given above [illegible] this the [illegible] for twelve years half [illegible] already expired? The precedent established by the payment of it will lay the basis for a similar demand every [illegible] years [illegible] treasury [illegible] the United States which the statesmen of that country do not contemplate

THE EASTERN QUESTION.

Various Speculations

London March 28 The Daily Telegraph this morning says On Tuesday night her majesty's government received the reply of Prince Gortschakoff The cabinet assembled yesterday to consider it A Paris correspondent states the reply is to the effect that Prince Gortschakoff fully understands the wish of England to take up the conditions and general purport of the provisional treaty but from a Russian point of view he must maintain the exercise of a veto upon the discussion of those terms which are considered at St Petersburg as outside of Europe in jurisdiction and concern The Telegraph adds that the natural consequence of Russia's answer is that the congress will not meet Our Vienna correspondent it seems hopeful and intimates that Austria is endeavoring to arrange a compromise These sanguine views however conflict with the general tenor of news This correspondent also declares that Austria has not a thought of the congress without England nor has such an idea been suggested elsewhere

A Paris dispatch says the German government is much disappointed at the failure of the congress but thinks negotiations therefor may be successfully renewed

The Vienna Fredenblatt says Turkey shows no disposition to ask for the withdrawal of the British fleet though Russia has intimated that its presence causes a continuance of Russian occupation

A Vienna dispatch says Gen Ignatieff who is personally unpopular here, has been coldly received

A London correspondent at Paris telegraphs It is reported to night that a majority of the left are inclined to accept the compromise with the senate on the budget dispute Should this disposition prove fallacious a serious conflict would appear to be inevitable

The Treaty Null and Void

Bucharest March 28 In the chamber of deputies to-day Cozal Niceano minister of foreign affairs, declared that the treaty of St Stefano was for Roumania null and void He stigmatized that treaty as a scourge to the Roumanian government He said he would yield nothing where the rights of his country were concerned

Austria will Remain Neutral.

Vienna March 27 —Count Andrassy has informed Sir Henry Elliott that Austria would remain neutral in the event of Anglo Russian war

St Petersburg March 27 —The dead lock continues It is stated that Russia is quite ready to make considerable modifications if it can be shown that they are for the general good and that the powers will enter the congress with a desire to arrive at a durable settlement and not simply undo what has been done It is believed however the English government is animated by a very different spirit

The London Times in a leading editorial says the hope that the congress will meet has now almost vanished Disagreement between our government and that of Russia seems insuperable

Russian Camp Forming.

New York March 28 —A special from London says It is stated that a Russian camp of two hundred thousand men is forming at Khokand destined to operate against India

Bargaining for Transports.

London March 28 —Representatives of the admiralty were in Liverpool yesterday inspecting steamers of the several Atlantic companies with a view to their employment in transporting troops in case of an emergency

The Assistance an iron screw troopship of 2 038 tons is the only transport in the service specially fitted to carry cavalry and an order has been received at Portsmouth that all troop ships including the five Indian troopers must have their hatchways enlarged and other alterations made to allow of horses and ambulance and baggage wagons being lowered below Besides carrying a complete battalion each troop ship will be required to convey about twelve wagons and sixty horses

What Russia Thinks of England's Demand.

A St Petersburg correspondent says the British cabinet in demanding a formal assurance from Russia which none of the powers support must have one of two aims, either to inflict formal humiliation upon Russia or to get out of the necessity of attending the congress In the former case Russia cannot make any concession In the latter the congress will not be held and Russia will endeavor to come to an arrangement with Germany and Austria Thus England condemns herself to isolation makes the triple alliance a political necessity and perhaps renders inevitable that radical solution of the eastern question which she wishes to prevent

A dispatch from St Petersburg says there is an active party there who oppose any concessions to Austria which might impair the treaty The treaty of St Stefano is considered sufficiently humiliating for Russia already

Notes after, and perhaps before the War.

A Vienna correspondent telegraphs so long as the slightest chance remains of a real congress of all the signatory powers thus securing the possibility of European settlement, it will be tenaciously clung to by her All efforts will be concentrated on increasing those chances and on the removing of obstacles in the way of the congress

The pro Russian party is urging the government to accept Bosnia Herzegovina and the territory on the Ægean Sea

Another correspondent says a sudden and unaccountable change in the Austrian government's attitude is reported It is said Count Andrassy has only been feigning concurrence with the court party, and he is now preparing to oppose Russia openly with the entire Hungarian party at his back

Constantinople March 28 —The Russians have issued a proclamation inviting Mussulmans to return to their homes in Bulgaria and warning the Bulgarians to preserve tranquility

Two transports with Russian troops have left for Odessa

Lord Derby Resigns

London March 28—Lord Derby secretary of state for the foreign department has announced his resignation in the house of lords

Reasons for Resigning

Lord Derby in the house of lords stated that his resignation was not on account of the demand for the submission of the whole treaty to the congress

Lord Beaconsfield explained that Lord Derby resigned on account of the calling out of the reserves

The Anglo-Russian Correspondence

London March 28 In the house of commons this afternoon Sir Stafford Northcote in reply to an inquiry sent by Lord Hartington leader of the liberals said The correspondence in recent negotiations will be on the table this evening Russia's reply was received yesterday She adheres to her previous declaration and explains the point of leaving [illegible] the powers [illegible] liberty [illegible] such questions [illegible] reserves to [illegible]

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

CALIFORNIA

The People Aroused at Last

San Francisco March 28 —The Alta this morning says in its editorial columns A number of citizens have formed a tax payers league to consider the extraordinary condition of affairs at present existing They cannot understand why a blustering bully should be allowed to threaten the lives and property of citizens, night after night and every Sunday with impunity They cannot understand why a brutal fellow can be allowed to coarsely [illegible] a hemp noose on a public platform and say that he will hang a senator in public before the rising sun They cannot understand why a [illegible] ruffian can receive police protection in breaking up a meeting which he had no part in calling They cannot understand why prosecutions have not been commenced against this persistent law breaker and his satellites They propose to employ counsel to inquire into all these things and many others and find out how it is They propose to restore things to a condition of tranquility when real estate will have a price in market and will find purchasers to encourage capital to again seek investment here to have incendiary harrangues stopped, to make it imprudent to utter threats against life to provide for holding public meetings decently and in order to impeach police captains who do not discharge their duty and to do a number of other kindred things which are at present neglected This seems like a large contract but it can be filled to the letter The people have endured long enough the threatening of Kearney and his gang and have taken hold of the job in earnest

Dennis Says he Didn't.

San Francisco March 28—Yesterday afternoon Dennis Kearney called on Messrs Whittier Fuller & Co to deny authorship or any knowledge of the threatening letter addressed to that firm and bearing his signature Addressing one of the firm Kearney asked if they had published that letter On being told that such was the case Kearney said he thought they might have called on him and given him an opportunity to deny it The member of the firm to whom he was speaking said "Well Mr Kearney you have been making threats long enough and I think it is time you were stopped" Kearney said to the Call reporter that the first he knew of the letter was when he saw it in the paper He did not attack men in that way If he had anything to say about any one he said it publicly from the stand where all could hear him He thinks the letter was written by some one to injure him, or by some lunatic who used his name without any authority

A Ride to Death

Visalia March 28 —A fatal accident occurred five miles from this place at Cross creek, where passenger trains pass Yesterday morning a young man named Powell, 18 years of age was stealing a ride on the train from San Francisco He was holding on to the brake rod running under the coach and had probably rode a long distance in this manner As the train was backing off from a side track after allowing the northern bound train to pass he was thrown from his place by a jolt of the train the wheels passing over him taking off both legs and his head Powell was on his way to Arizona where he has an uncle superintendent of the King mine

San Francisco March 28 —Adolph Sutro has brought suit in the U S circuit court of Carson Nevada for the possession of the Bonanza mining claims claiming that the ground now being worked by the Bonanza companies belongs to the Sutro tunnel by reason of said tunnel's grant by congress allowing the Sutro company 2 000 feet of ground on each side of the tunnel not previously located under mining laws Sutro claims that the ground at present worked by the Bonanza companies was not included in their original location and per consequence is the property of the tunnel company

ALBANY AND LEBANON MAIL ROUTE

Lebanon March 25 1878

To the Editor of the Oregonian

The explanations given by interested parties in reference to the Albany Lebanon and Sweet Home mail route are far from satisfactory to our citizens It is claimed in the Albany Register of March 15th that the charges contained in "Vindex's" communication to The Oregonian did injustice to the parties reflected upon and that the alteration of the schedule time was not the work of Mr Barker Mr Barker was not charged with changing the schedule time but Postal Agent Steel is very strongly suspected of having a hand in the matter

In The Oregonian of the 19th inst is an article signed "Justice" which deserves a notice "Justice" says the change in the schedule time has been long understood as being simply a clerical error and that Mr Barker will not assume the carrying of the mail on this route unless the same be changed back again

We presume Mr Barker, as well as every other bidder complied with the law and entered into the necessary bonds (of $2 000 in this case) to perfect the contract if awarded him and to carry the mails under the schedule time as officially published from the postoffice department That he will not assume the carrying of the same without a change is made is absurd

If it has long been known that a clerical error occurred in the publishing of the mail contract we would beg to ask who has long known this? Certainly not the citizens whose interests are jeopardized by the change

"Vindex" is charged with being "in grievous error" when he says that Mr Duncan's bid was $250 less than Mr Barker's as Barker's was $750 instead of $650 as announced in the dispatches to The Oregonian The telegraph then was in error and still Mr Barker's bid is $50 per annum more than Mr Duncan's

Until more light is given us the people of Lebanon Sodaville Waterloo and Sweet Home will continue to think that a very small job has been put up on them and we can assure the perpetrators whoever they may be that a great deal of indignation is felt by our citizens generally on this matter and until a thorough investigation is had this route will not be a profitable one for the new contractor

FRIDAY MORNING MARCH 29 1878

THE TWO BILLS

The senate is debating daily with great earnestness the debts of the Pacific railroads. Two measures are before that body. It was known that the judiciary committee was preparing a bill to enforce the rights of the government and bring the corporations under proper regulation. In consequence a bill intended to be acceptable to the companies was hurried up by the railroad committee. Both measures were submitted to the senate on the same day. The judiciary bill provides that one half of the sums due the companies for services rendered to the government shall be applied to payment of interest on the bonds of the United States which the companies have received, and that the other half together with cash payments making in all a sum equal to 25 per cent of the net earnings shall go into a sinking fund for discharge of the debts of the roads. The bill is so drawn, however, as to provide that part or all of the 25 per cent of the net earnings shall be remitted under certain circumstances on account of payment of interest on the first mortgage bonds; and it also makes the amount of payments into the sinking fund and on account of interest on United States bonds dependent on the amount of net earnings and on the services actually performed for the government. Thus devised the bill cannot possibly oppress the companies because the payments are to be regulated as the money is actually earned by the roads. Yet at the same time it proposes to enforce a fair accounting to government on a principle which it is computed will extinguish the debts of the roads and secure the government against the great ultimate loss it must otherwise suffer.

Such is the judiciary committee's bill. The scheme presented in the other bill is this: The accrued earnings on account of government service are to be the beginning of a sinking fund, and if they amount to less than a million for each company the companies are respectively to make up that amount. Afterward the companies are to pay a million a year each to the fund, and in consideration thereof the government is to forego its present right to 5 per cent of the net earnings of the roads and one-half of their earnings for transportation of mails, troops and supplies. But government already retains out of the earnings of the roads sums almost as great as the million each company would pay under this proposition. Should this bill be accepted government would surrender advantages fully equal to those it would gain and no real progress would be made toward final payment of the debts of the roads. Right there is the delusive feature of the bill. It may be stated differently thus: In consideration of one million a year to be paid by each company in lieu of five per cent on net earnings, which government now exacts, and all claims against government on transportation account, the latter is to release the five per cent on net earnings and pay the companies in full for all transportation. Now the five per cent of net earnings has averaged for four years, according to the report of the judiciary committee, $577 142, and the yearly transportation account of the companies with the government is $1,242 622. Hence if government were to accept the railroad committee's bill it would surrender annually $1 819 764, and receive in lieu thereof only $2 000,000, a rate of payment which would really do nothing at all toward extinguishing the debts. Nor is this all. If the account of government's transportation should increase over present figures there is great chance that it would actually pay the companies more money than they would pay back. Again, while government pays interest on the bonds of the companies amounting to $3 240,000 a year, it is to receive no interest on these interest payments, while the companies are to have interest on their payments compounded and this manipulation is to be played off as payment of their debts. No wonder it is denounced so vigorously by Senators Thurman, Davis and others. No wonder leading journals speak of it in the words of the Chicago Times, as "an idea worthy of Jay Gould." Thurman is right, unquestionably, when he says government could better afford to lose the whole debt outright now than to be deluded into a juggle of this kind.

After long delay the issue is fairly joined in congress, and we shall soon see whether the companies are to be again as successful as they have been heretofore in defeating all effort to compel them to make payment out of their enormous surplus on account of their obligations to the government. Thurman has the management of one bill and Mitchell of the other.

RAIDS ON THE TREASURY

Though the present is an era of conciliation it may not be amiss to notice again the enormous mass of claims upon the treasury, mostly from the south, now accumulating upon congress. The Chicago Tribune's Washington correspondence shows that there are now pending in the quartermaster general's office 12 000 claims, in the commissary general's office, 1 000; before the congressional committees, 2 000; in the southern claims commission, 8 000, besides 2 000 yet to be filed in the quartermaster general's office under recent legislation, making a total of [illegible] claims now in which call for unenumerated millions, and will "come to the front with a southern yell when the Democratic party comes into full possession of the government." In addition to the claims filed as above, the New York Tribune presents a list of bills actually introduced at the present session of congress calling for appropriations amounting to above $27,000 000, mostly on account of war losses of various kinds. Not long ago an effort was made to get a bill through for payment of $390,000 alleged to be due to southern mail contractors on accounts remaining unadjusted at the outbreak of the rebellion and the bill almost certainly would have passed had it not been proven on the floor of the house, from the confederate archives in possession of the government that the contractors had been fully paid by the confederacy which had taken possession of the mail service of the United States within its borders. Several years ago congress paid $7 000 for these archives and here in a single instance they were the means of saving four times the sum, by defeating an impudent and fraudulent claim.

Great as is the sum of the claims already presented, the deluge is probably yet to come. Certainly this consequence may be feared if those already presented should meet with much encouragement. It is no trifling menace of national bankruptcy. For ourselves we believe to the fullest extent in the policy of conciliation. The wounds of the war cannot always be kept open. But it is impudence to assert that any just principle of conciliation demands depletion of the national treasury. It is astonishing to observe how many rate their patriotism at a cash valuation. When government was obliged to reduce the people of certain states to submission it inflicted losses upon them, as it intended fully to do. There was no other way. Some who claim to have been loyal may have suffered with the others but that was inevitable. Nearly all now claim to have been loyal adherents of the government during the struggle and it becomes a matter of wonder how the confederacy was able to recruit its armies and sustain itself in the midst of a population so generally hostile to it. Besides while conciliation is in the market the people of the northern states have a right to share in it. They have paid heavily in all ways on account of the civil war and will decline now to be taxed further to pay losses resulting even indirectly from it. If there is to be complete reconciliation the most necessary of all things is the abandonment of southern claims. So long as these efforts to get at the treasury continue there will be continuation of a sectional issue, the language of partisan exasperation and animosity will be heard on the floors of congress and a subject of discord and bitterness will be before the people in every election. To the minds of multitudes there is nothing else that so makes the continued existence and supremacy of the Republican party a national necessity as this constant pressure of southern claims for payment. It is at this moment the supreme fact which vitalizes the Republican party and it may be doubted whether that party will ever be dispossessed of the government while this danger threatens.

David A Wells in an article in the current number of the International Review presents an estimate of certain foreign public securities owned and held in Great Britain as permanent investments of capital. It is stated as probable that the British people own a not inconsiderable share in the national debt of every country in the world. Of American securities, federal, state, municipal and corporate, the estimated amount held by the English is $600,000 000. The rapidity with which wealth is accumulating in Great Britain and the amount of capital seeking investment is stated as something almost incredible. Gross assessed income has more than doubled during the last twelve years. England is the money power of the world and if she goes to war with Russia her grand cash will match the multitudinous soldiery of Muscovy. England can borrow hundreds of millions any time at four per cent. There is no greenback party in that country and the people play no tricks on creditors with silver.

Week after week goes by, the time approaches when the whole business of a long session of congress jumbled together will be pressing for attention, with small chance for any special measure, and yet nothing is accomplished, or likely to be, toward securing a railroad for the northwest. But this was the original programme with those who set out to defeat the Northern Pacific, the only practicable enterprise, and it is working well. A bulletin or two more between now and election, about the Columbus River and Salt Lick road, and the whole play will be over. Then the able management of the election goes in its favor will begin to get a new farce ready for the boards.

Dennis Kearney denies that he was the author of the threatening letter sent to Whittier, Fuller & Co, and talks as if he were a deeply injured man because the document was published. But the letter itself is in no manner worse than his own daily utterances. The staple of his harangues is murder, pillage and incendiarism. San Francisco is waking up and if the people get hold of them there will be short time for shriving.

Yesterday the house elected another Democratic member by one majority, the speaker giving the casting vote. Nobody condemns the rule of eight to seven so vigorously as our Democratic brethren but they manage at every opportunity to use it in their own behalf. Every Republican whose seat has been contested in this congress has been unseated. The returns now probably are about all in.

Admiral DeHorsey's report as to the best terminus for the Canada overland railway is published by the Victoria Colonist. It condemns Burrard Inlet and Skeena river as harbors, and strongly favors the adoption of the Bute Inlet route, with Esquimalt as the terminus.

THE PEOPLE'S HOUSE

Important Announcement.

SPRING GOODS!

IN ADDRESSING THE PUBLIC ON THIS OCCASION we do so with more confidence than at any time since our advent into business. Our career in business has been singularly successful, having attained a degree of enviable notoriety for straightforward dealing, selling goods at a slight margin on importers prices.

Our STOCK for the Spring Trade is one of the best selected and the most comprehensive ever before offered to the people of Oregon—bought on the most advantageous terms and embracing every line in the trade.

In disposing of this Immense Stock our conduct shall be guided by the same golden rule as heretofore—Honest dealing, and the Smallest Living Profits.

Our patrons embrace a large number of the Northwestern population and in sending out our

we hope to see or hear from all our friends and as many new ones as wish to avail themselves of this opportunity of purchasing goods cheaper than ever before offered in the Metropolis of the North west.

Our facilities this year have been particularly favorable for purchasing, having through our friends of the Bay City had the chance of picking up special lines suitable for this market at prices for which manufacturers could not begin to produce them. This in a great measure is caused by the almost general stagnation of business in the leading markets of the United States and more directly affecting the Pacific States from the hard times they have had and are having in San Francisco. The consequence is the merchants there must unload their heavy stocks and in many cases at a great sacrifice.

Fully realizing the situation our MR KERRON launched out and purchased an IMMENSE STOCK!

More than in ordinary times he would have been justified in buying, but the low prices he obtained them at will enable us to spread them over this State and the Territories at such a reduction on old time prices as will convince the most skeptical that we mean business and business we Must and Will Do!

It would be useless attempting to give a List of Prices. Space does not warrant it. But we shall forward samples to any of our country friends who send for them.

The public in dealing with us can place implicit faith in the fact that the lowest prices are asked. All Goods are marked in plain figures from which there can be no deviation, thus placing the inexperienced on equal terms with the experienced in the purchase of goods.

Our country friends would do well to reap the advantage of an early inspection of our Warehouse. It is incumbent on us to make room. We are crowded and we must move goods off to make way for fresh contracts to arrive by every Steamer during all April.

We have advices of a shipment of Goods from Glasgow direct now fully due and daily expected

CITY.

TELEPHONE—FIRST TRIAL TEST—Mr [illegible] Lamb superintendent of this division of the Western Union Telegraph company [illegible] has set up [illegible] telephone [illegible] day [illegible] a practical test was made [illegible] ment in [illegible] the presence of [illegible] gentlemen [illegible] [illegible] is a wonderful invention.

THE NEW CATHEDRAL.—Several times mention has been made in these columns of the movement on foot among the Catholics of Portland to raise the necessary funds for building a large and elegant cathedral. In speaking of the proposed building, the Catholic Sentinel says: "The dimensions of the structure will be 150 feet in length by 65 feet in width. The building will be erected of pressed brick with stone facings, cornice, window sills and projections. It will contain a basement underneath ten feet high in the clear, the floor of which will be [illegible] the sidewalk. From the base to the summit of the roof of the main building the height will be 51 feet. There will also be a tower and spire extending 235 feet. In size the building will be somewhat larger than St Mary's cathedral San Francisco. It is contemplated to commence operations on the first of June and it is hoped that the main building will be roofed in so as to be used for divine service by December next and entirely completed within a year. During the erection of the new cathedral mass will be celebrated in the school room adjoining, which will be considerably enlarged by the addition thereto of the sanctuary portion of the present edifice. The estimated cost of the new cathedral will be upwards of sixty thousand dollars, the plans and specifications being ready for inspection next month."

TWENTY FIFTH ANNIVERSARY.—[illegible] of a century ago on the 8th of April Samaritan Lodge No 2 Independent Order of Odd Fellows was organized in this city. The members of that lodge propose to celebrate the important event in a proper manner with appropriate ceremonies. At a [illegible] meeting of Samaritan Lodge the following persons were appointed to act as a general committee of arrangement: W. Light[illegible], C. R. Hoffman, F. E. Hodgkin, Jas. [illegible] and J. W. Kelly. These gentlemen [illegible] empowered to appoint sub-committees and have entire control and management of the affair. The programme which has been decided upon includes a public parade in full regalia, musical and literary exercises at New Market Theater also a historical review of the lodge. This will take place in the afternoon of Monday. [illegible] the procession leaving Odd Fellows' Temple at [illegible]. In the evening a sociable will be given at the temple and also a grand ball at Turn Halle under the auspices of the lodge. The proceeds of the ball will be donated to the Odd Fellows' Library Association of this city. Invitations will be extended to the various lodges throughout the state to attend and participate in the ceremonies.

PAID HIS FINE.—As might have been predicted the difficulty between the fellow Gately and his dutiful spouse has been amicably adjusted—at least for the present—without the clumsy intervention of courts. [illegible] Gately lodged complaint against her husband before Justice Davis, who issued a warrant and [illegible] the brutal wife-chastiser arrested. John gave bonds for his appearance and the case was set for trial Wednesday forenoon. Before that time the obdurate heart of his wife relented. It would really be too bad and cruel to send such a model husband to jail for indulging in the innocent pastime of whipping his wife, threatening to take her life and driving her forth in the dead hours of the night to pass the time in wandering through the woods. She could not bear to [illegible] the companion of her bosom behind remorseless iron bars. Early Wednesday morning Mrs G came down to the court, withdrew the complaint, filed satisfaction and paid all the costs like a woman of true [illegible]. Her greatly injured husband now stalks a free man in the broad light of the day. What [illegible] longer question the [illegible] to which the devotion of a true woman [illegible] go for her husband?

EDWARD JAMES ARRIVED.—No tidings were received here of the arrival of the American barque Edward James, which crossed the Columbia river bar bound for Honolulu, on the 12th of last January until yesterday. A dispatch was received yesterday forenoon from San Francisco bringing the welcome news that the barque had reached the island in safety. As near as can be ascertained the vessel arrived at her destination on the [illegible] inst. This would make the passage 67 days. [illegible] Much apprehension was felt for the safety of the Edward James, as it was known that she was out in the extremely heavy gales which prevailed some weeks along the coast. As time passed along and no news of her arrival it began to be gravely feared that she was lost. [illegible] all anxiety concerning her safety is now dispelled.

TELEPHONE—PRACTICAL TEST.—Mr I H Lamb, superintendent of this division of the Western Union Telegraph Company's lines has set up and placed in operating condition a genuine telephone in his office and yesterday a practical test was made of the instrument in the presence of several members of the press and other gentlemen One of the instruments is placed in Mr Lamb's office which is located near the corner of First and A streets, and the other at the drug store of Dr O P S Plummer at the corner of First and Salmon streets The distance between these points is about half a mile The instrument used by Mr Lamb is what is known as a "hand telephone" It consists of a small wooden case or box, oblong in shape about eight inches long four wide and a little over an inch thick This case contains all the necessary appliances for gathering or condensing the human voice and for transmitting it. At one end of the case is a small opening about one inch in diameter to which is attached a sort of funnel shaped mouthpiece This is used either in transmitting or receiving messages—by placing to the lips or ear Beneath the opening in the case is placed a small sheet of metal which is very thin and sensitive When speaking the voice causes this metallic tympanum to vibrate and the vibrations are transmitted by means of electricity to the other end of the line to which is attached a similar contrivance. A small insulated wire leads from one end of the case and is fastened to the ordinary line over which telegraphic messages are sent The test was most satisfactory and successful the telephone working like a charm Conversation was maintained between persons at each end of the line with perfect ease every word being transmitted for the distance of half a mile very distinctly One of the gentlemen at the drug store placed the instrument close to his lips and whistled an air The notes could be heard plainly at the telegraph office, but the time was not clearly distinguishable. This test demonstrated beyond doubt the practicability of the telephone and also showed the many uses to which it may be put in every-day business affairs During damp, heavy weather it is claimed that the voice can be heard distinctly for a distance of ten miles, and when the atmosphere is dry and weather clear, it can be used advantageously for almost any distance Certainly it is a wonderful invention.

THE NEW CATHEDRAL.—Several times mention has been made in these columns of the movement on foot among the Catholics of Portland to raise the necessary funds for building a large and elegant cathedral In speaking of the proposed building the Catholic Sentinel says: "The dimensions of the new structure will be 150 feet in length by 65 feet in width. Much public apprehension was felt for the safety of the Edward James as it was known that she was out in the extremely heavy gales which prevailed some weeks ago along the coast. As time passed along and still no news of her arrival it began to be gravely feared that she was lost However all anxiety concerning her safety is now dispelled.

THE BEN HOLLADAY.—During the past season the little tug Ben Holladay has been undergoing a thorough and complete overhauling at the foot of Taylor street Not only has the woodwork of the boat been repaired and additions made to the cabin but the machinery has been refitted and placed in good working condition This tug belongs to Messrs. James and Vin Cook and will be used this year as it was last in connection with the fishery at Clifton The Ben Holladay is now in splendid trim for the coming season's work. Capt Fred Congdon the old steamboatman will have charge of the boat, and it can be safely asserted that she will be entrusted to competent hands The boat will probably start down the river Sunday

DESTITUTE FAMILY.—We learn that a family residing on Grant street near Front is in very destitute circumstances The husband and father is seriously afflicted with the heart disease, and unable to do any kind of work A gentleman who resides near this family ascertained their destitute condition and immediately started out yesterday forenoon with a subscription paper In a few hours he succeeded in raising over $40 which sum was turned over to the family The gentleman who kindly interested himself in the cause of these poor people, states that the father and husband had not worked for some time and there was nothing whatever in the house to eat. This is a case of deserving charity and our benevolent citizens should not allow these unfortunates to suffer

DEATH OF MR. HILDRETH.—The many friends of Mr Joseph Hildreth will learn with regret and pain that he died at the insane asylum Wednesday morning Mr Hildreth it will be remembered was adjudged insane some weeks ago and committed to that institution After lingering along for some time he quietly yielded to the summons and passed peacefully away to the unseen world Deceased was an old railroad man and for several years was superintendent of the Oregon and California railroad He has a brother residing in Louisville Kentucky to whom the sad intelligence was telegraphed yesterday Inquiries were made by Mr Hildreth's friends here as to what disposition should be made of the remains We understand that the body will be prepared for shipment and sent back to Louisville for interment

[illegible].—In a late San Francisco exchange we observe a paragraph concerning the somewhat notorious W B Higby who several months ago figured conspicuously in the courts of this state After being tried and acquitted of the charge of subornation of perjury Higby became a firm advocate of the cause of temperance Soon after he left here and went to San Francisco From the exchange it appears that Higby fell from grace He got on a spree and during his intoxication fell down a stairway in one of the hotels of that gay and festive city and had the misfortune to fracture an arm

SPLENDID MACADAM.—G street from Fourth to Thirteenth is now being macadamized Already the work has progressed five or six blocks and that thoroughfare presents a greatly improved appearance No better work of the kind has ever been done in this city the macadam being 17 inches deep and laid in the most compact and durable manner Mr Sweeney has personal charge of the work and the excellent manner in which it is being done reflects credit on that individual

CORNER STONE.—Says an exchange One week from next Friday the corner stone of an Episcopal chapel will be laid at Canemah Bishop Morris has been invited to conduct the exercises and will be present for that purpose The people of Canemah have determined to perform their religious services under their own vine and fig tree, and on the day mentioned will lay the corner stone for the edifice

OFFICERS ELECTED.—Wednesday evening a regular meeting of the members of Alpha Literary Society was held at which time the following officers were chosen Oscar Heintz president Miss Jessie Scott, vice president Ben Bird recording secretary Mr Sibley corresponding secretary O I Clay editor Herbert Northrup, treasurer and Arthur Heintz, librarian

ON EXHIBITION.—The splendid Paris Exhibition stand described in another column can be seen by those desirous of inspecting it to day and to morrow It will well repay the citizens of Portland to visit the building on the east side of First between Taylor and Salmon adjoining the cabinet shop of Mr Sinsheimer and see this beautiful piece of work.

LAST DAYS.—Mr J K Laing, city treasurer of East Portland desires us to state that to day and to morrow will be the last days on which city taxes can be paid All taxes unpaid after to morrow evening will be declared delinquent Call up at the captain's office and get his autograph and thus save trouble

TO SOCIALISTS.—A very enjoyable affair is promised at the Taylor street M E church, next Tuesday evening To attempt to give the reader an idea of what will be given on that occasion would require too much time and space Read the advertisement of "Those at the Wheel," for further information

PARIS EXHIBITION STAND.

A FAITHFUL DESCRIPTION OF THE [illegible] THE CABINET DESIGNED TO CONTAIN OREGON PRODUCTS AT THE PARIS INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION A TRIUMPH OF SKILL IN ARCHITECTURAL DESIGNING AND CABINET WORK

Nailing up a few shelves or rough boards the merest experience could detect merit in the splendid samples of Oregon products that will be on exhibition at Paris at the great international gathering there during the coming season The splendid grasses grains fruits etc grown in the state which have been sent forward would attract attention in any country no matter in what shape they might be shown for their real excellence needs no adornment to give it prominence But those who are superintending the work of getting a fair representation of our interests to the exposition have by no means intended to allow the impression which might be made by the sight of the products of the soil to be marred by a lack of taste in the manner of their presentation to the people of the whole world who will gather at Paris this summer That this may be done the well known firm of Piper & Knapp of this city were employed to design and superintend the construction of a suitable and appropriate cabinet or stand The matter was submitted to Messrs Piper & Knapp about three months ago and the result of their work is now completed and will be on exhibition to the public until packed for shipment to its destination

TO DESCRIBE THE CABINET

Which contains over one hundred and twenty feet of shelving its shape appearance manner of construction etc so as to convey to the reader an adequate idea of its beauty would require an intimate knowledge of the architectural art The outlines of the cabinet give it a pyramidal form Upon the apex an American eagle with outstretched wings The whole 17 feet in height 9 feet in diameter at the base and contains more than

TWENTY FIVE THOUSAND PIECES OF WOOD

The base is of black walnut, a decagon in form, surmounted by the first tier of shelves or receptacles for articles intended to be exhibited The receptacles consist of five shelves and four niches set into the body of the main structure together with a tablet upon which is represented the seal and motto of the State of Oregon The niches and shelves are floored and backed with ash finished with a French polish showing plainly the grain and character of the wood The niches are formed with a single arch and the shelves, with treble arches supported by black walnut pillars beautifully carved, the facing above the arches and in the angles formed by the arcs of the arches being of cedar burl a wood which receives a most beautiful polish

The second tier consists of 5 shelves and the heads of the niches before mentioned These shelves are of maple burl the backs and sides of mountain mahogany alder ebony and other varieties of fine woods beautifully inlaid and incised and polished in the finest manner known to the art

The third tier of shelves which is about on a level with the eye of a person of medium height when standing on a plane with the foot of the cabinet is the most elaborate in workmanship and in beauty of any other portion of the work The floors of these are of maple burl the backs of inlaid and incised work the various kinds of woods too numerous for us to mention which are used the skill and precision with which the inlaying and incising is done and the dazzling splendor of the finish generally baffle our knowledge of technical language to describe A more finely finished piece of work than these shelves is seldom seen even in articles much more diminutive. At the usual prices paid for the work of inlaying, this tier of shelving alone would have cost about $1 000 At the sides of the shelves are brackets of black walnut, ornamented with the carved figures of rams' heads, horns of plenty etc

The fourth tier is but little less elaborate and elegant in design and finish than the third the back and sides being similarly inlaid and incised The fifth and sixth tiers are also made to correspond with the others in point of convenience for display and beauty of construction The whole is surmounted by a dome-like framework the base of the dome being in the shape of a star and the dome itself forming with the eagle perched upon its top a well designed and appropriate crowning piece for the entire work

The wood used in the cabinet is nearly all of Oregon growth and will give to such as are skilled in wood work who may see it, an idea of the advantages offered by this state in the way of wood for fine cabinet work though the purpose of the structure in a utilitarian sense, is to serve as a means of exhibiting the various other products of the state As such it is well designed and as exhibiting the fineness of Oregon woods and the skill of Oregon workmen it will be sure to attract attention even among the millions of interesting objects to be seen at the exposition The labor required in its construction has been equal to that of one man for a year or more Mr Knapp has had general superintendence of the work while Mr Sanborn has been unremitting in his efforts to secure everything necessary in the way of material and help in the enterprise It has required the exercise of a good deal of economy on the part of Mr Sanborn to secure the resources to finish the work according to the design

In conclusion we congratulate the people of Oregon that by the enterprise of some of her citizens and especially owing to the untiring energy of Mr Sanborn commissioner from the state to the Paris exposition, that they are likely to make such a splendid showing on that occasion

NOTES

The entire cabinet is put together without screws nails or glue and can be taken apart and boxed for shipment in a short time and again put together easily and quickly

Incised work is simply a technical name for cutting the representation of leaves and flowers in the otherwise plain surface of the wood

Mr Thad Welch the renowned Oregon artist now at Munich has consented to paint the coat of arms of the state for one of the tablets a fact which assures us that this will be another beautiful feature in the structure

HALF FARE

Arrangements have been perfected by which all delegates paying fare over the lines of either the Oregon Steam Navigation Company, the Oregon and California Railroad or the Oregon Central Railroad, to attend the coming Republican State Convention will be returned free over the same route of travel upon the certificate of the undersigned

DISTRICT COURT AT VANCOUVER.

The district court Judge [illegible] presiding has been in session at [illegible] ever since Monday 18th inst

During the term the grand jury returned nine true bills of indictment

Considerable interest has been manifested in the trial of James L Martin indicted for murder in the first degree. Martin got into difficulty with a man named Harper near Goldendale some time last winter and shot him Harper subsequently died from the effects of the wound and Martin was arrested and indicted at the term of the district court [illegible] The jury came into court several times for instructions [illegible]

Some time ago [illegible] Brown assaulted one of his [illegible] with a dangerous weapon during a drunken spree [illegible] In view of the extenuating circumstances the judge was [illegible] clemency as he could consistently He sentenced Brown to imprisonment in the county jail for one day and to pay the costs of the prosecution He served out one day, and on the captain giving bonds for the payment of the costs Brown was allowed to go back to his company The time which he would otherwise have to serve in jail to work out the costs he will serve in his company and his wages will be applied toward the liquidation of the same

Yesterday the case of James Lancaster was called for trial Defendant was indicted by the grand jury of the crime of arson About two months ago a flouring mill at Goldendale was destroyed by fire and young Lancaster was arrested on the charge of being the incendiary The case will probably be concluded to day.

The district court will probably adjourn to day as Judge Green will have to open court at Olympia next Monday

There is no good reason for this, if you will only throw aside prejudice and skepticism, take the advice of druggists and your friends and try one bottle of Green's August Flower Your speedy relief is certain Millions of bottles of this medicine have been given away to try its virtues with satisfactory results in every case You can buy a sample bottle for 10 cents to try Three doses will relieve the worst case Positively sold by all Druggists on the Western Continent

Legal tenders in Portland—buying 98 selling 99½.

Silver in Portland 3@4 per cent. discount

We have frequently been asked what is to be the effect of the silver bill upon the general financial condition of the country but few if any, people on this coast having yet seen any result whatever from its passage At the east there is of course varied opinions upon the subject Among New York capitalists there has been much anxiety though the prevailing impression says an exchange is that it will not have much effect for good or ill for perhaps a year to come except by bringing bonds home for sale in consequence of weakened faith abroad in American honor Some anticipate an early panic in bonds One prominent banker points out that the banks have been loaning money at par on these bonds and they will at once require a larger margin and as most of these bonds have been drawn against for the full margin sales will be forced This will be in addition to the immense quantities of bonds that will be thrown on the market by foreign holders and a serious decline will follow One of the largest loaning institutions in the city has disposed of most of its government bonds in anticipation of a decline

President Stewart of the United States Trust Company says The marked effect will not be felt until the balance of trade turns against us Then gold will leave the country and we will be on a silver basis If we are to resume specie payments in January next, the fear is that silver cannot be coined rapidly enough to take the place of gold and the more valuable metal will leave the country The bill, and speeches made in advocacy have made eastern capitalists think that if they loan money to the west it will be difficult to get it back, or that they will be seriously deterred in securing repayment. Western cities will find it more difficult to borrow money in the east than ever before So long as gold is not wanted for shipment abroad I believe there will be only a fractional difference between the money value of gold and and the silver dollar, because one will be as good as the other to pay duties, and will meet every requirement for home needs It is only in dealings abroad that the difference will be sensibly felt. In saying so much for the bill I still regard it as disgraceful, and a piece of legislation which stabs the national honor and integrity After a fair trial the very men who have so zealously favored it will be the first to urge its modification or repeal

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN.

His Wonderful Success
IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL

Chronic and Difficult Diseases,

He has astonished the People of this Coast by his skillful Operations.

HE HAS TAUGHT IN HIS public and private lectures the true principles of health and life to both male and female. He has also warned them against habits that would be likely to produce disease in plain and comprehensive language But where he has found them crushed and broken down by disease mentally and physically he has restored them to health and happiness for it is well understood that without health there can be no happiness has made a specialty in the treatment of the following diseases Catarrh Bronchitis and all diseases of the throat and chest by an entirely new system only known to himself Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs, including Spermatorrhea Seminal Weakness or premature loss of Manhood In the treatment of these diseases he has made a world wide reputation by his astonishing success not only on this Coast but throughout the whole United States Diseases of the stomach bowels liver and kidneys as well as all diseases of the blood and skin he has become master of and never fails to give relief at once and permanently cures the case if he is applied to in time.

THE DOCTOR HAS GIVEN SPECIAL LECTURES

to ladies only for years and is perfectly familiar with all female complaints and understands their delicate and refined organization as well as the proper remedies which should be used to allay their suffering and restore them to perfect health

THE DOCTOR HAS THIS ADVANTAGE

over most physicians—he can tell the patients disease the moment he comes in contact with them without any aid from the individual This accounts in part for his great professional success

All surgical operations can be performed by his skillful hand, and the patient used not fear the result.

DR. BRENAN

will send to those living at a distance and who can not well visit his office a list of Printed Questions and by the answers when filled out he can tell the disease as well as the proper treatment almost as well as seeing the patient personally, and will forward the proper medicines, or instruments to any part of the country with full instructions and advice. Each letter requiring advice or list of questions, must contain two postage stamps

Everything strictly confidential and honorable

THE DOCTOR

has studied in the best Medical Schools in Europe and three years in the Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia as more than one of the Medical men of the Medical Faculty in this State can testify

Scouting in the Black Hills

A scouting party consisting of three companies of cavalry and two of infantry under command of Capt Edwin Pollock 9th infantry, left Fort McKinney yesterday to patrol the country in the neighborhood of Belle Fourche, and as far into the Black Hills as the limits of the department will permit. Fort McKinney is the most northern post in the department of the Platte and is about 178 miles northeast of Fort Laramie and the foot of the Big Horn mountains This expedition would have started two or three weeks ago had it not been for the late severe storm that prevailed through the country they were expected to traverse They will be on patrol duty in the field about one month, and will hunt for straggling bands of Indians away from reservations

Rise in the Missouri

The Missouri river rose 20 inches at this point since yesterday three and a half feet at Sioux City and five feet above that place. For fear that it may rise and do some damage to the Union Pacific bridge precautions are being taken to prevent anything of the kind A day or two since a superstructure of the second span at the east end was put in place and a wooden truss which has been doing temporary duty, was lowered about a foot and allowed to rest on the piles. Some of the piles are already washed out and there is a possibility that the high water will take them all out Should it do this the wooden truss would very likely plunge forward, eastward, against the piers and possibly break them off as the truss weighs 250 tons To avoid such a disaster the truss is now being hung by two immense steel wire cables six inches in diameter These cables are to go under the truss at each end and the ends of the cable are to be fastened to the iron work above, which is independent of the wooden truss and rests on piers Trains are passing over the bridge safely and with but little or no interruption

The Inter Ocean s New Orleans special says The ultra Democrats including Judge Whitaker, have formed a conspiracy which it is generally supposed is a secret matter, to defeat justice and keep Anderson in prison When the supreme court overrules Whitaker's decision again as it will and orders Anderson's release Whitaker will refuse the writ for the release The supreme court will then direct the sheriff to release him, but the sheriff having left town purposely to avoid the mandate Gov Nicholls will be called on to release Anderson but the military which is under orders of a rampant irreconcilable Democrat, will refuse and Nicholls will have to yield or take the ultra step of calling for U S troops which it is believed he will not dare do The scheme is well formed and has been kept for several days but has just leaked out
